News of Interest to All

Planting of spinach has started in Porterville district and is expected to continue until the middle of this month, according to L. L. Walters, manager of the Fred B. Neuhoff canner at Porterville. Seed for 250 acres has been distributed among fifteen growers. Last season 40,000 acres of spinach were packed at the Porterville plant, while next season the pack is expected to be fully 75,000 cases. The first cutting will start about March 1.

The olive crop in Happy Valley near Olinde, Shasta county, is better than common. Harvesting of the Missions has started. The Queen varieties—the Barounis and Sevallinos—have been harvested. The Queens are much larger than the Missions. The Queens are from an inch to an inch and a half in diameter, or much larger than the Missions.

Eleven western states will participate in the sixtieth fruit growers' and farmers' convention at Stockton, on November 16th and 17th, if all invitations sent out by Governor C. C. Young are accepted. Governors of four states have already signified their intention to send representatives, it was announced at the executive office.

After adopting resolutions asking that annual state and federal appropriations for the biological surveys campaign against coyotes and bobcats in California be increased $50,000 and $25,000 respectively, the California Wool Growers' Association closed its twentieth annual convention last week at San Francisco with election of officers.

The annual meeting of members of California Dairy Council will be held at the Municipal Auditorium, Oakland, on November 17th, at 10 a. m., according to announcement by Sam H. Greene, secretary. The quarterly meeting of directors will convene at the same place immediately after the meeting of members. The annual Dairy Dinner will be held at Hotel Oakland that evening.

Onions, now an established crop of Coachella Valley, are again claiming the attention of valley growers. A recent survey indicates that fully 3000 acres will be planted to the crop this season, compared with 2500 acres last year. Seedbeds were planted early in October, and several growers have recently been busy resetting the slender plants for the early crop. Transplanting will continue throughout this month.

The recent rains, having the heaviest precipitation that had fallen in San Joaquin Valley this early in the season in thirty years, are hailed with joy by all farmers, but especially by the live-stock men, dairymen and wheat growers. Summer-sown grain is sprouting and growing fast and farmers are rushing to put in grain on land that has been plowed. With land wet a foot deep by the unusually heavy early rains on the vast bed of Tulare Lake, west of Lemoore, and on the west side of Kings an unusually heavy acreage is likely to be planted to grain this winter.

The consumption of California walnuts is steadily increasing in the metropolitan district, even though New York is the chief port of entry for imported nuts, and in face of the fact that many of the foreign-born population have a personal bias toward the products of their native lands. This growing popularity of the California crop is a classic illustration of what a good marketing system can do for growers, especially when competition is keen. Roughly speaking, the production of California walnuts has increased four-fold during the last quarter century, which means that per capita consumption has increased considerably. For the last five seasons counting 1927, the California walnut crop has averaged around 23,000 tons annually.

Second position in the acreage devoted to the production of hay for the season is given to Tulare county in a recent crop report issued by E. E. Kaufman, state agricultural statistician. First in numbers of acres is Imperial county with 143,300 as compared to Tulare's 140,600 acres. Fresno county had 79,100 acres, Kern county 83,700. The condition of pasture throughout the state for October was reported at 85 per cent normal. This compared with 82 per cent for last year, and 8 per cent for the past ten-year average.

Building operations in the four peninsula cities of Palo Alto, Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City for the month of October totaled $525,403. Palo Alto led with $245,538 in building permits, followed by Burlingame with a total of $124,705. The total for San Mateo was $118,550 and for Redwood City, $36,010.

The surprising announcement that at least forty per cent of all motorists who come to California each year remain here is made by the State Division of Motor Vehicles. Offering new evidence of the State's fast growth, the division revealed that approximately 28,000 of the 70,000 motorists who secure visitors' permits each year exchange these permits for permanent licenses later on.

The De Luxe and Scout halls, in the downtown district of Palo Alto are in ruins following fire that caused damage estimated at $75,000 last week. The blaze started in De Luxe Hall and spread to the other hall before firemen could be summoned. Eleven automobiles under Scout Hall were destroyed.

Photograph of the stars, sunspots and of other heavenly phenomena will soon be taken in the University of Santa Clara by the use of one of the largest telescopes in the country, now being erected. The instrument is a sixty-inch reflecting telescope, with non-tarnishable silver mirrors. It will be used in the Father Ricard Memorial Observatory.

The bridge across Dog Creek at Delta near Redding on the State Highway stands completed at a cost of $110,000. Construction work was begun over a year ago. The bridge will not be open to travel for two weeks, pending the completion of the earth approaches. The bridge is a 450-foot arch span, the floor being 128 feet above the bed of Dog Creek. The new bridge shortens the distance between Redding and Dunsmuir.

California's oldest copper, boasting fifty-four years of active service, is doing daily duty up on the dome of the California State Capitol at Sacramento. State Architect George B. McDougall made this announcement last week, and when he says "copper" he doesn't mean police officer. He means that the sheet copper covering the entire dome of the California State Capitol building has been there since 1873. Its excellent condition has aroused comment among experts on copper and inquiries regarding the dome were received last week from the Copper and Brass Research Association of New York.

Women inmates of San Quentin will work hereafter, it became known last week when they occupied their new three-story building equipped with an industrial room running the full length of the ground floor. In the old antiquated quarters barely enough space was provided to house the feminine inmates, numbering ninety-three, and no provision could be made to interest the prisoners in a useful occupation. The new building gives the women new opportunities.

Tioga Pass road into Yosemite has had its first snowfall and can be considered closed for the season, reports the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of California. A fall of fifteen inches was reported to the Auto Club a few days ago. More snow is expected, while Yosemite National Park reported rain. The all-year road into Yosemite is in good condition and will remain open during the winter, but motorists should be equipped with chains.

Two hundred fifty-eight new oil wells have been started in the fields of Kern county this year, out of a total of 1,010 for the entire state. During the past week three new holes were begun. One of the new wells was begun by the Associated Oil Company in the Round Mountain field, making another company to enter this field, which is but a few months old.

Frank E. Mitchell, president of the Sacramento Real Estate Board, last week announced the appointment of five members of the board to an executive committee to perfect arrangements for the twenty-fourth annual convention of the California Real Estate Association to be held in Sacramento next year. Glenn D. Williams, secretary of the state realty organization, was in Sacramento during last week and conferred with the local board regarding the coming convocation, which is expected to develop into one of the best ever held by the association. A tentative decision to stage the convention from Monday to Friday, October 8 to 12. At least 12,000 delegates, and perhaps more from all sections of the state will be in attendance and the convocation is regarded as of particular importance because there will be gathered here realtors and city builders from 100 cities in California.

SCOUT TROUPS INSTALLED, HONORED

Last Sunday evening the Congregational Church was filled to capacity with interested relatives and friends gathered to witness the installation of the new Scout organizations, and the dedication of a national flag presented to them by Mr. A. Hart of San Jose.

Opening ceremonies included a salute to the colors, the singing of America and a dedicatory prayer by Rev. J. H. Bennett.

Harrison White, county Boy Scout executive spoke on the meaning of Scouting and gave a very brief history of the movement.

Walter Bachrodt, superintendent of schools of San Jose, presented the "Wolf Cubs" the youngest group with the "white feathers," their first honors. Tenderfoot badges were given the elder boys, who had qualified for them.

Mr. Bachrodt based his remarks on the Scout oath which the boys repeated to him. The Scout prayer was sung by Dr. Merrill and the boys.

H. H. Hallin of San Jose, in charge of the Sea Scouts of the county presented apprenticeship badges to the boys of this group who are under the leadership of Worthin Grattan.

Mr. Bennett gave a short talk to the boys from two very appropriate Bible verses. The exercises closed with the sounding of taps and the benediction.

Mr. Bennett also welcomed a number of "Lone Scouts" who were present.

Justice Awry

A second time has justice been defeated in our midst when Antone Buzolich was allowed to change his plea of not guilty to a charge of intent to murder, to one of assault with a deadly weapon. The change was made possible by his father-in-law, N. Suzzalo who made a plea for him and said he would be satisfied to have Buzolich punished with only a year in jail, if he staid away from his former wife afterward.

This change of plea brought him a sentence of one year in the county jail, while a conviction on the former charge would have meant a long term in San Quentin.

Following so closely the Jean's murder case, where technicalities and failure to support charges made against him, ended in his being released, would make it appear scarcely worth our officers' efforts to apprehend the perpetrators of crimes.

Scout Benefit

The play to be given in January by the organization of Campbell is well under way. Bruce Cooper and Willard Loughlin represent the Lone Scouts, Jack Murdock and Jerome Pope represent the Boy Scouts and Engine Moore represents the Sea Scouts. Yenni Berry, Ruth Bollinger and Ethel Ethel Jenkins represent the Camp Fire Girls. Between acts the various groups will give stunts showing their ability in other lines than in acting. From present indications the play will be one of the best ever given in Campbell. The funds raised will go to pay for athletic equipment for the Scouts of Campbell.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Harlow of San Lucia, at the San Jose hospital, a 10½ pound son. Mrs. Harlan was Miss Esther Smith, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Smith.

Mother, suggest that the family go to the Congregational Church this evening to get their supper. First supper will be served at 6:00 o'clock to which blue tickets will admit, and at 7:00 o'clock for which we must have red tickets. 65 cents per plate.

"CHIEF" WHITE TALKS ON BOY SCOUTS

"Boys learn by doing," is the theory of Harrison White, Scout leader of four counties. White addressed an audience of teachers, parents and Boy Scouts last evening in the Campbell High School auditorium. He showed moving pictures taken by himself showing how proficient the Scouts are in setting up tents, making fire by friction, racing and swimming. He showed pictures of the summer camp 16 miles from Santa Cruz near the old Indian burying ground and said that one troop of boys found a whole Indian skeleton which the University of California purchased for $50. Pictures of several Scout conventions were also shown.

At the conclusion of the pictures he gave a brief talk in which he added that the Scout movement was working in co-operation with the church, the home, the school, the courts, and the Y. M. C. A. to make American lads what they should be physically and morally.

He concluded with a few personal incidents from his Scout work showing what can be done even with seemingly impossible boys by sympathetic personal contact. He also made a plea for the Community Chest, upon whose funds his work depends.

Rev. J. H. Bennett, Campbell Scout master gave a brief talk following White. He spoke of his experience with the Scout movement to be one of religious, spiritual and moral training, but entirely undenominational.

"Neither is the movement militaristic," he stated, "although distinctly disciplinary," he praised the French Scouts which he had seen during his service during the war. He said that he had 79 scouts enrolled in the Campbell troops and that he was in need of assistant leaders to train them.

Kiwanis Holds Thanksgiving Service

Campbell Kiwanians listened to reports of the Hollywood convention as viewed from four angles. These reports, as varied as the delegates themselves, were given by Dean Whitman, Ed Weisendanger, Ed Merrill and Harry Smith. Amusements, resolutions, side trips and sights were described by the delegates. The first meeting in December will be election day of the Campbell Club.

Ralph Hyde as chairman set a new stunt of "joke passing" more or less as a benefit to charity.

H. C. Smith sang a solo assisted by Dr. Merrill at the piano.

The directors voted to give financial aid to the Community Chest. Owing to lack of local workers, S. N. Hedegard, L. M. Beale and Ed Weisendanger were selected to assist in the chest drive in Union District.

Dr. Channing Richard of San Jos will speak on "Thanksgiving" at the luncheon Tuesday noon with H. C. Smith presiding.

Frank Cutting Hurt In Scenic Fall

F. H. Cutting is convalescing from injuries received last Thursday when a fruit ladder on which he was standing to do some scenery painting in the grammar school auditorium collapsed and dropped him to the floor.

He struck on several protruding corners and objects, cutting a sizable gash over one eye and injuring his side. At present he is materially improved and anxious to be "up and at it again." He is to be congratulated on receiving no more serious injuries, which would have laid him low for many weeks.

The Country Woman's Club will meet Monday, November 21, the topic, "World Events" with Mrs. Ellen R. Smith, chairman.

COMMERCE CHAMBER TALKS IMPROVEMENTS

Campbell Chamber of Commerce was called to order Monday evening at 8 o'clock by President Farley.

Mr. Hedegard spoke of the high school P. T. A. meeting and the talk by County Scout Director White.

It was suggested that shade trees be planted along the west extension of Campbell avenue and the president referred the matter to the highway committee.

The paving of Alice avenue was referred to highway committee.

E. R. Kennedy, R. G. Archibald and R. H. Hyde were appointed as speaker committee for February 22.

The annual election of officers for the Chamber will be held at the regular December meeting. The president has appointed as nominating committee: C. B. Field, T. A. Cutting and B. O. Curry, who will secure candidates for the various offices.

Mrs. L. S. Miller and Mrs. Mary Lamphear were appointed to confer with P. G. & E. Co. concerning more prompt service on gas and electric troubles in this vicinity.

CHAS. BERRY INJURED IN FALL AT DEPOT

Chas. Berry, genial S. P. agent, met with a fall Wednesday afternoon, which very fortunately resulted in no apparently serious results, although sufficiently disastrous.

He was standing on the the express truck where he had been helping load a box into the car on the afternoon passenger and in stepping backward, stepped off the truck. He struck the hard ground on the back of his head, which "knocked him out," to use a football phrase, and involved a loss of memory for some time.

By evening he was feeling much better, although his side was quite sore and there was a dull ache in his head, and he could not lie down. However, congratulations are in order that he escaped with no worse injuries.

SEND PRUNES TO FOLKS IN EAST

November 21 to 28 next week, the third annual intensive celebration of Prune Week will be held in Santa Clara county. The committee has been busy placing orders with the merchants for 20,000 boxes that will be packed.

Campbell's share is 400 boxes this year and as they will sell for 60 cents and are more satisfactorily packed for shipping they should be quickly disposed of.

Each box contains five pounds of selected prunes, packed in a substantial wooden box, enclosed in another outside wrapping of pasteboard.

Express charges to any point will be 48 cents and parcel post rates will be based upon the distance shipped.

These boxes will make excellent Christmas presents for friends or relatives in other parts of the country and easily and quickly solve many vexing moments of debate on "What Shall I Give?"

Pratt at Conference

H. A. Pratt, foreman of the cabinet department of Tilden Lumber Company was selected to confer with other representatives and educators at the San Jose School of Vocational Education last evening.

Here methods of working and instruction were discussed that the best may be accomplished in the school work.

CAMPBELL COUNCIL PUTS CHEST OVER TOP

Campbell districts have again demonstrated their generosity and belief in sharing their goods with others less fortunate and to keep the youth of the county on the road to good citizenship by over-subscribing their quota to the Community Chest.

The allotment to Cambrian, Campbell, Hamilton, Moreland, San Tomas and Union Districts was $2600. Wednesday noon $2973.80 had been subscribed and of this $1000 goes to the general fund and the remainder is used for work in these districts, for the library, relief of the sick and needy and other work constructed in this territory.

The citizens of our community are deeply appreciative of the time and effort expended by those who conducted the campaign and they in turn are thankful to all who made their work a success.

Cambrian School children by an enthusiastic drive raised $14.05 among themselves and deserve special thanks.

The local committee is S. N. Hedegard, president; G. E. Farley treasurer; Mrs. L. F. Shaw, secretary, and Dr. F. R. Anderson, manager.

Lionel T. Lenox has resigned as assistant cashier in the Bank of Italy main office. Mr. Lenox has been connected with banking institutions in the county for a number of years and his resignation was a surprise to his many friends.

At present he contemplates improving his property on Al-bright's Hill preparatory to building thereon at a later date. His business plans are not subject to publication yet, but he stated that he would not take up active work before the first of the year.

EDWARDS AT MODESTO

Mr. Benjamin Edwards, popular director of Campbell's Choral Society is the soloist at a concert in Modesto this evening, at McKee's Auditorium.

This is the first of the season's concert course in that city and is being greatly anticipated. Edward Caldwell of Oakland, noted pianist of the bay cities, will give several groups of numbers, and also be Edwards' accompanist.

IS AMERICAN BUSINESS GOING STALE?

There's not a great distance between "going great" and "going stale." An athlete almost fears to be at his best because that's his time of greatest peril from the nemesis of the too-fine edge.

America has arrived. We have more money than any other nation in the world, holding the balance of power in cold, hard bullion.

Wages are high, and real wages (what they will buy in actual goods) have never been so high.

Our present success was made possible by the fierce fighting of our fathers. Their chief concern was to forge ahead. There were wildcat times when America went nearly bankrupt, followed by a hurried gathering of resources and back into the battle they would go with renewed energy and determination.

Now that America is over the hill and prosperous times are continually with us, do we begin to think more of keeping money than of making it? Does rate of interest concern us more than rate of progress?

Like an athlete who has just been victorious, is American business in danger of going stale?

American business as a whole fluctuates in morale as does an individual.

The athlete who fears that he is going stale overcomes this state of mind by a smashing effort of will and a vigorous workout.

The morale of American business at this indicates that it has been gripped by a similar apprehension.

It's time for a workout in greater selling effort and setting up of an enlarged objective.

During the war the nation learned how to produce vast quantities of merchandise. Production has since increased. We are turning out one-third more product than at any time during the war. Our factories are busy. They shall keep busy as long as consumption continues to use the increasing production.

To take up the slack of increased production we must develop more buying. This calls for enlarged sales programs.

We know that sales follow advertising. Business leaders, department store heads, manufacturers of a wide range of commodities have shown us comparative sales records and have publicly testified that sales follow proper advertising as certainly as one day follows upon the next.

—Chicago Tribune.

CONCERNING RODEOS

Little did we realize when we rode Buttercup, the family jersey cow to pasture in boyhood days, that she might have been offended. Today, an organization in California is lavishing time and money on a campaign to eliminate cruelties to cows. They allege that the cattle and broncs do not enjoy the pastime which can be compared with bull fighting in sunny Spain.

Those who attend rodeos, and they are usually men who love and understand animals, maintain that a horse delights in a good rider who can match his skill with that of the horse. These men look with scorn on the alleged members of the humane society who trot a horse on pavement and who inflict greater suffering on dumb animals by improper feeding.

The first California law regulating Rodeos was passed in 1851 and provided that the owner of any stock ranch who desired to give a Rodeo was required to give all other surrounding owners four days notice of his intention so that the others could be present and look after their interests in the separation of the cattle at this roundup. The California law was based on Mexican rather than English practice, the English law providing that a stock owner is responsible for keeping his own animals within his own enclosure, whereas the Mexican law permitted the animals to roam at will over the public range and required a roundup or Rodeo at least once a year for the segregation and inventory of the cattle.

The California law makes it a crime for a stockman to mark or brand his cattle at any other time than at a general Rodeo. If he owns 6000 head or more he is required to give at least three Rodeos per year. The law also provides for officers known as "Judges of the Plains," whose duty it was to settle all disputes at any Rodeo at which they were present.

If such judges are not present, any three disinterested stockmen may act as judges of disputes involving not over $50 in amount. Barbecues always accompanied the rodeos and it was in connection with them that this sort of feast originated. The old Rodeos, as a whole, also became general annual festivals at which romances were born, cultivated and culminated and engagements announced.

Not oftener than once in a blue moon should the expression "once in a blue moon" be used.

Saving Without Trouble

An American Trust Company checking account facilitates business transactions by saving time, trouble and inconvenience, and there is still another highly useful service it can be made to perform. Many persons with checking accounts in the American Trust Company have been enabled to accumulate surplus funds, earning four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, by taking advantage of the Self-regulating Savings Account Plan. Ask any American Trust Company officer how easily and effectively this money-saving arrangement can be made to save for you.

Lone Scouts

Beginning January 1, 1928, Willard Loughlin will take complete charge of all Lone Scout affairs within Region 12, Boy Scouts of America. The Region is made up of Utah, Nevada, California and Arizona.

Each year an election is held by the Lone Scouts Division of the Boy Scouts for the purpose of installing a new Council Chief. The members of the Lone Scout Grand Council (or governing body, composed of Scouts who have so boosted the organization as to be recognized as leaders) of each region nominating the candidates and the election is held in the month of November of every year. Loughlin was the only Grand Council or nominated at the regional rally in San Francisco in August.

This is the highest honor given a member of the organization and the fact that there are but thirteen of these chiefs in the United States, Canada, foreign possessions of the U. S. A. and in the foreign countries, makes the Scouts in Campbell feel proud that one of their group has such a high position in the National Organization.

The Trailblazer Tribe is planning to reorganize. They have been making plans for a much better group and the addition of several new fellows makes the group somewhat larger. All members are high school students, though one or two have completed the high school work and are now in college.

An inter-Wigwam basketball tournament is being planned. enough teams can be formed for some dandy matches, but more boys can be used. High school fellows are especially urged to join. How about it?

A cup will be secured for the winning team. A dandy first team is seen and games with other scout groups or with other organized boys' clubs will be scheduled.

The Lone Scout Tumbling team which meets each Saturday night at 7:30 in the old bank building, is rapidly learning the various flips and flops that "make a team" and a bright future is seen.

Mrs. A. J. Jones who suffered a stroke of paralysis recently is steadily improving. Her daughter Lola Brown, who arrived from Hay Springs, Nebr., last week, will spend the winter here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Townsend for many years residents of Campbell, but now living in Hollister, came up Tuesday to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. H. Campbell on Johnson avenue.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Glover those participating in the wedding anniversary feast were Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Glover and son, Richard; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glover, daughter Maria and son Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Glover and two daughters, Dorothy and Marian. —Riverside Press.

GOLDEN WEDDING BELLS

In the month of October, in seventy-seven

One of those matches they make up in heaven

Was completed, and launched on its happy way;

An has proved a success to this very day.

Ella cooked and sewed while Frank kept store

In a few years the stork came to the door;

Soon the family grew from two to four,

Just "Robbie" and "Wallie" and then no more.

For fifty years they've walked side by side,

Since the day when Ella was Frank's blooming bride;

For fifty years they've worked together

Through both sunny and cloudy weather.

Years went by and the boys grew to men,

A credit to Pa and Ma —and then

Same's old Adam, each took him a wife

To help him make good the rest of his life.

Dick was the next to arrive on scene,

Then Marie and Raymond were thrown on the scene.

Today we're all here to give you the hand

And tell you we think you're the best in the land.

From your children, and grand children, too,

Here's respect and love that is sound and true;

May the years to come be so full of fun

You'll be going strong at a hundred and one.

Declaring advices received by him indicate natural gas is being wasted in the California oil fields at a rate of 100,000,000 cubic feet a day, Governor C. C. Young last week announced appointment of a special committee of five to devise a plan, if possible, for natural gas conservation. The announcement at the executive office at Sacramento estimated that the daily waste of natural gas amounts to $150,000, or approximately $55,000,000 a year.

"Petters," jeyriders and other examples of "flaming youth" were responsible for approximately 80 per cent of the automobile thefts in California last year, it was estimated by Frank G. Snook, chief of the State division of motor vehicles. Stolen car records reveal, Snook said, that something like 18,115 motor cars were taken by young people intent on having a good time. The statement quoted statistics indicating that 22,644 cars in all were stolen during the twelve months and that between 90 and 95 per cent of them were ultimately recovered.

RADIO AUDITION MEDAL

MADAM LOUISE HOMER

MRS. EDGAR STILLMAN KELLEY

A. ATWATER KENT

TEN young American singers—presumably the best in the country—will face the microphone at Station WEAH in New York City early in December to sing for fame and fortune. They will be the finalists in the National Radio Audition of the Atwater Kent Foundation of Philadelphia.

This nation-wide quest for radio voices has already revealed hundreds of young singers of promise, who have entered the contests eagerly because the auditions offer them recognition at home and a chance to compete for prizes aggregating $17,500. Distinctive figures are sponsoring the undertaking as a National Audition Committee. They are Madam Louise Homer, the Metropolitan Opera star; Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs; Edward W. Bok, former editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, wife of the world-famous New York banker and music patron.

Winners of state auditions—one boy and one girl—receive silver medals and are taken to their district auditions at the expense of the Foundation to compete with young singers from their neighboring states. Winners of each of the five district auditions—one young man and one young woman in each—receive gold medals and are taken to New York by the Atwater Kent Foundation for the finals, which will be broadcast over a national network of stations. The awards for these will be as follows:

Winners of first place—one young man and one young woman—will each receive $5,000 cash and two years' tuition in a musical conservatory.

Winners of second place will each receive $2,000 cash and one year's tuition.

Winners of third place will each receive $1,000 and one year's tuition.

Winners of fourth place will each receive $500.

Just Happened to Be One of Her Off Days

The desire to conceal ignorance is more or less inherent in everyone. Who has not resorted to assumed sophistication when his mental attainments seemed to be on trial?

A few days ago in an Irvington home the lady of the house, on account of illness, was compelled to call her new maid to her bedside to receive instructions relative to the evening meal. She explained that the oven in the kitchen was similar to a fireless cooker. She handed the maid her watch and told her to place the meat in the oven and in 30 minutes to turn out the fire.

In five minutes the maid returned and said that she had done as she was told and had turned out the fire.

"Why, you have not been gone 30 minutes," exclaimed the housewife.

"I spects I got to make a confession," admitted the embarrassed girl. "Some days I kin tell time and on other days I jest can't tell time. Today jest seems to be one of the days when I simply can't tell it."—Indianapolis News.

Proper Alignment Saves Tire Wear

Additional wear and tear on the tires is the result of too much "toeing in" of the car wheels, according to the service department of the National Automobile Club. The best safeguard against such wear and tear is an alignment by measurement from time to time.

A warm, clean home

That's the beauty of Gas fuel

You'll have clean, comfortable, care-free heating all winter long when you heat your home with gas fuel. And there'll be no soot or dirt.

For the new gas-fired heating systems supply pure, warm air without attention or bother. There is no need of going into the basement. A little electrical control upstairs automatically takes care of the furnace.

So buy a good gas-fired furnace. Have it installed correctly. For that means long years of economical operation. But remember—there's little economy in a cheap furnace installation. So talk to our gas heating specialist first, for he'll gladly advise you about specifications that insure economical and efficient gas heating
